Letter from our Pastor

An Extraordinary Parish for Ordinary People

Dear Friends in Christ,

June is traditionally the month dedicated to the Sacred Heart of Jesus. In 1956, Pope Pius XII issued an encyclical letter called Haurietis aquas, which detailed the meaning of the devotion to the Sacred Heart, which is, in some season, as old as devotion to the Sacred Humanity itself:

Once this essential truth has been established we understand that the Heart of Jesus is the heart of a divine Person, the Word Incarnate, and by it is represented and, as it were, placed before our gaze all the love with which He has embraced and even now embraces us. Consequently, the honor to be paid to the Sacred Heart is such as to raise it to the rank - so far as external practice is concerned - of the highest expression of Christian piety. For this is the religion of Jesus which is centered on the Mediator who is man and God, and in such a way that we cannot reach the Heart of God save through the Heart of Christ, as He Himself says: "I am the Way, the Truth and the Life. No one cometh to the Father save by Me." And so we can easily understand that the devotion to the Sacred Heart of Jesus, of its very nature, is a worship of the love with which God, through Jesus, loved us, and at the same time, an exercise of our own love by which we are related to God and to other men. Or to express it in another way, devotion of this kind is directed towards the love of God for us in order to adore it, give thanks for it, and live so as to imitate it; it has this in view, as the end to be attained, that we bring that love by which we are bound to God to the rest of men to perfect fulfillment by carrying out daily more eagerly the new commandment which the divine Master gave to His Apostles as a sacred legacy when He said: "A new commandment I give to you, that you love one another as I have loved you. . . This is My commandment that you love one another as I have loved you."

June is a perfect month to add the Litany of the Sacred Heart to your private devotions and visit the image of the Sacred Heart which welcomes people into our church in the narthex. Light a candle before the statue and remember the love the heart of an infinitely loving God has for you. If you can, come to church on the Feast of the Sacred Heart, which is Friday, 24 June. At 71 days after Easter, it may seem far removed from the glories of the Resurrection, but in many ways reflects the fact that the stupendous feast of the Resurrection is not just a cosmic event, it is an intimate bond of love between each of us and a God whose love conquers death in us too. And that is very much something to celebrate.

In Christ,

Fr. Christopher J. Smith

We have a lot of English and Latin that we sing here at Prince of Peace. In an effort to encourage everyone to learn as much of the repertoire as possible that we sing here, we now have our own playlist on Spotify. ## the priest prepares for mass (cont. from last week)

The next outer vestment is the stole, which comes from a Roman symbol of authority. The stole is the symbol of the fact that the priest receives authority from the Church to celebrate the sacraments, and is, in fact, worn in the celebration of all of the sacraments. Traditionally, a priest would wear his stole crossed in front, and a bishop would wear his stole straight down, as a sign that only the bishop has the fullness of the priesthood, and that the ministry of the priest is limited by his obedience to the bishop. Roman judges used the stole as a sign of the authority, but the Church employs it as a sign that the True Law is that of Grace and lived in obedience to the Word of God. The priest kisses the cross embroidered on it, and prays, Lord, restore the stole of immortality, which I lost through the collusion of our first parents, and as unworthy as I am to approach these sacred mysteries, may I yet gain eternal joy.

The priest immediately then puts on the largest and most conspicuous of the vestments: the chasuble. The Latin word casula means "little house", and is like a shelter that covers the priest. The chasuble covers up the stole, and symbolized charity, which must cover all things, even authority. O Lord, who has said, My yoke is easy and My burden light, grant that I may so carry it as to merit Thy grace.

The priest then covers his head with the biretta, the scholars' cap of old, which from its soft form has now hardened into three peaks symbolizing the Most Holy Trinity: Father, Son and Holy Spirit, in whose Name the Mass is true and perfect worship. When the People of God have been gathered in the church for Mass, and the acceptable time has drawn near, we leave behind chronos, the changing time of this world, and enter into Kairos, the timeless expanse of eternity whose veil is drawn back just a little bit at every Holy Mass. He bows to the Cross in the sacristy, and the server rings the bell, the joyful signal to the faith to rise and greet the Lord who comes in their midst to renew the Paschal Mystery in the heart of the Church. Mass has finally once again begun.

An Extraordinary Parish for Ordinary People

The Liturgy of the Hours is the public prayer of the Church that corresponds to the command of the Lord, Pray without ceasing. The hours of the divine office sanctify every day just as Mass sanctifies Sunday. The great thing about the Liturgy of the Hours is that it can be celebrated by anyone, and with everything from no ceremonies at all just by prayerful reading of it to solemnly with lots of ministers with singing. At Prince of Peace, we have a mix of different styles in which we pray the Divine Office. Many of our people choose to pray the Liturgy of the Hours from a breviary, a collection of psalms, hymns and spiritual canticles, privately. Some pray from a book, an edition approved for that prayer, or from the IBreviary app on their smart device. Bishop Robert Barron's Word on Fire Apostolate now has a subscription service where you can get a monthly book which makes the praying of the more important hours of the Office easier: Go to this website to learn more.

In the parish, our laypeople lead Office of Readings and Morning Prayer (also known as Lauds, the Latin word for Praise) or Evening Prayer (also known as Vespers, after the Vesper star in the sky which is the first star appearing in the evening) several days a week, in English, according to the Ordinary Form of the Liturgy of the Hours. You can find the schedule for that in our bulletin each week. On Sundays, during most of the Sundays in Ordinary Time after Pentecost (while school is in session) and Epiphany, the priests and deacons lead a solemn celebration of sung Vespers with chant in English according to the Extraordinary Form of the Roman Rite followed by Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament in Latin. We do the same for Night Prayer (also known as Compline, after the Latin word for fulfillment, since we have reached the end of the day) during Advent and Lent. During Eastertide, our Sunday celebration is simplified: Vespers is read in English with a deacon presiding, and is followed by Benediction.

On Sundays and Solemnities, the liturgical day begins on the evening of the day before, just as it did for the Sabbath in Jesus' time. Evening Prayer of that first celebration is called First Vespers. Evening Prayer of the day itself is called Second Vespers. In the English speaking world, the Church of England popularized native terms Mattins for Morning Prayer and Evensong for Evening Prayer.

In ancient times, many of the Christian faithful joined their clergy for the hours of the Divine Office they could attend. As Mass began to be celebrated every day and not just on Sundays, and the Office became longer and more elaborate, the faithful began to substitute private devotions for the Liturgy of the Hours. The 150 Hail Marys of the Rosary, for example, were a substitute for the 150 Psalms that make up the bulk of the Office. The Office began to be prayed by priests and religious in communities. Vatican II desired to restore this prayer to everyone, and instructed pastors to ensure that the divine office was prayed publicly in the church. The liturgical reform simplified the Liturgy of the Hours from eight offices to five, and drastically shortened it. Before 1974, we prayed the entire psalter in a week; now it is done over a month, and some psalms and some verses of other psalms are omitted. Many lay people have started to pray Morning and Evening Prayer as part of their spiritual discipline. We encourage our people to privilege this public prayer of the Church over even other worthy devotions.
