Letter from our Pastor

An Extraordinary Parish for Ordinary People

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

There are lots of opportunities to serve the LORD and to engage the Church’s mission for evangelization and catechesis. We regularly ask our parishioners to be a part of those worthy initiatives. But when we do so, decisions to take on those projects or ministries have to be done with wisdom and discernment. Everything is good, but not everything is expedient. 1 Corinthians 10.23. I always tell my penitents, “Put first things first, and everything else tends to fall into place.” Our state in life with its obligations is the particular path Christ marks out for us as the place where we work out our salvation and become holy. If you are a parent with a family, you already have your ministry given to you: your domestic church.

Where there is extra bandwidth, we all have to discern, with the others entrusted to our care, what other worthy initiatives we can reasonably take up. Sometimes that means saying, No, and not feeling guilty about it. The Rule of St Benedict instructs his monks to live a life of moderation. Life should be balanced. Balance means sometimes we have to say no to things that are good in and of themselves, but not right here and right now. Now, life sometimes presents us with certain phases that are not as balanced as we need them to be, and we can get through them for a time, but they can’t be a lifestyle without causing serious long term damage!

There is an idea that a healthy parish is a busy hive of activity where there are countless well run ministries and external outreach initiatives that all serve the Gospel. I am not sure this is really what the Lord had in mind to be honest. I mean, if he came to Prince of Peace any day or night of the week, would he scold us as busy Marthas? Or would he look at the young mother praying in secret in her own house or the proud grandfather lifting up his tribe to God at midnight in the adoration chapel as taking the better part.

I am firmly convinced that an undisciplined approach to technology and social media is stressing out our families more than they need to be. Stop trying to be the perfect Catholic mom from Pinterest or Instagram, please! Let’s do a few things well and with a lot of love, and restrict our use of technology and social media to reasonable quantity and quality, to rediscover a more balanced life.

“Cultural brainwashing that raised us to believe that our worth is equal to our achievements, and that if we're not doing anything, we're essentially worthless. This is a lie.” This quote is from one of the more consoling and interesting books I have read parts of lately, the title of which might surprise you. Kate Northrup’s Do Less: The Unexpected Strategy for Women to Get More of What They Want in Work and Life. I started reading this book because I am very worried that some of the amazing women that call Prince of Peace their spiritual home are in danger of being overwhelmed. It has inspired me to come up with a new theme for our pastoral life together, which you will hear more of from me:

Do less!

(Now, I didn’t say do nothing, but remember: you are a human being, not a human doing...)

In Christ,

Fr. Christopher E. Smith

men's get together

A get-together for the men of the parish is slated for 4 November at 6p behind McGivney Hall at the fire pit. Brotherhood is what most men are missing in their daily lives because they have trouble maintaining any real friendships outside of the social circle they entered into when they married, or that of their work colleagues. But as men of the same Parish, there are still a lot of men who don't even know each other's names, which is something we're looking to change.

- Age group: 18-108yo
- The agenda: Just hanging out with other men of the parish
- The entertainment: Conversation, cigars, fire, and meat on the grill.

We are seeing lots of children in our parish who are not participating in our parish school OR Religious Education program. If you chose to homeschool your child(ren) and are teaching religion at home, please fill out a Homeschool RE Registration Form and turn it into Maria Barontini. This serves as a record for sacramental preparation and is needed YEARLY for children 7 years of age until they receive Confirmation. The homeschool RE Registration Form outlines the requirements for each sacrament for our homeschooling families.

- ALL First Holy Communion YEAR 2 and Confirmation YEAR 2 registration forms must be turned in prior to the yearly December deadline for a child to participate in a Spring sacrament (we must have two years of records).

Please contact Maria Barontini to receive the form via email at maria.barontini@princeofpeacetaylors.org
